

Ricarda Haehn is a creative director, director, and stylist - guided by dragons.
Her work moves through raw emotion and poetic imagery, blending AI with intuition, the digital with the divine.
She creates visuals straight from the soul.

What is reality itself? Where do we live? Do we live at all, or are we only working? Is this a fake it till you make it world? Does money really make us happy?
In the end, we are what's inside of us. The outside does not matter - it's on ya facade. It's all about your soul and your heart.
